A Good Move

For Us--And For You.

There's no standstill where there's growth. There never was a standstill in the Segel & Brady business in the old Blue Store on Depot Square, else there never would have been the new big store of today—the largest, handsomest, brightest and lightest Clothing, Furnishing and Shoe store in the city.

The new Segel & Brady Store in the Bolster Block is all it should be in increased quarters—three times as much floor space as in the old Blue Store.

May we serve you here in our new quarters? Will be pleased to see all our old friends and many new ones.

There will be no meeting of the Boys' Brigade at the Presbyterian church this evening on account of the illness of Capt. Crutcher.

A large number of people went to Montpelier last evening to hear the first band concert of the season, but were partially disappointed as the scheme of having the concert from Cliff street did not work successfully. Contrary to expectations, the music was not plainly heard, and the merits of the band this year could not be ascertained.

L. M. AVERILL,

MARSHFIELD.

Forest Walker and family moved last week to the Sid Bemis farm.

Mrs. H. P. Martin is much better at this writing, being able to sit up.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bassett of Barre visited over Sunday at Abel Beckley's.

Mail was received for the first time at the new post office Monday morning.

Miss Flora Atkins of Cabot was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Pike, last week.

The Hatchelder water system is taking a digging up. Frost was found at a depth of three feet.

Chicken pox is raging in town. Mrs. Nina Preston and children, and Mittie Ennis are sick with it.

H. H. Meader is out again. John Severance is holding his own and hopes of his recovery are entertained.

C. I. Preston and son Ellis, began work on "Jake" Martin's new barn last week. Ralph Ide is in their employ.

Mr. and Mrs. George U. Annis and daughter Netherly of Montpelier were guests of Postmaster and Mrs. Davis over Sunday.

The Molly's Falls Telephone central was moved from the old quarters at the post office to the post office room in the K. P. building yesterday.

George St. Cyr has finished work at Plainfield, as sawyer in Arch Hatchelder's mill, and begins work this week for Wood Bros. at their mills.

S. Swerdfefer and A. C. Tucker are building a new barn at their camp at Greensboro this week. H. Hadlock, G. L. Dwinell and Whit. Davis are doing the job.

A recent letter from Rev. W. E. Newton from his parish in West Kenosburg, states that he is very pleasantly situated, and would be remembered to all his parishioners in this town.

Howard Carpenter and family are all settled in their home in Cabot. Mr. Carpenter has a position as first man at the creamery there. The parlors of the Marshfield creamery where he worked a year or more as second man, are sure of his success.

Last week, S. Swerdfefer, the miller, received a permit from the selectmen of the town to place a platform for his own use at the top of the hill leading down to his mill, and accordingly placed the structure against the bank wall at the back of Wyman Lambertson's house. Monday after Mr. Miller started for Greensboro, the offended neighbor, vented his anger upon said platform, demolishing it. Now, fun for some one.

At the hearing at the probate office, called for by this town, to see that a guardian be appointed over Nathaniel J. Eaton of this place, the afternoon of the 10th and a larger portion of the 11th of May was given to prove him capable of managing his own property. The defendant used only a small number of their witnesses when they saw what the evidence of the plaintiff would undoubtedly be. When Mr. Eaton found he was not named in the document purported to be the "last will and testament" of the late J. H. Eaton, he at once of his own free will and accord authorized someone to act for him in securing his just rights, a thing he has been more or less deprived of for 27 years or thereabouts. It appeared that other parties more interested for themselves than for "Uncle Nat" talked the poor man over, and took him away from his own home, keeping him under their eye and control. The judge did not appoint a guardian, but the people with whom "Uncle Nat" is at this time living, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis L. Martin of this town, have agreed to give the town a bond, satisfactorily signed, that he shall be properly cared for and not in after years become an embarrassment upon the town. Mr. Eaton is a worthy man and his old friends and neighbors wish him well cared for.
